

Lake Elkhorn Middle School

NEWSLETTER

MARCH 3, 2017

Message from the Principal

Greetings, Lake Elkhorn families:

March already? Hard to believe it, but it's time for parent-teacher conferences, which will be held on March 9 & 10. Please sign up through HCPSS Connect – further information is included in this newsletter.

We held two very entertaining and inspiring activities here recently to celebrate Black History Month. Last week, Ladies First sponsored our first ever Poetry Slam, led by Ms. Dean. Many students participated in the school wide assembly. On the last day of February, our new BSAP Liaison, Ms. Todd, led a Black History trivia contest. Teachers carried pictures and clues with them and students earned Eagle Bucks for guessing the correct answers. Both teachers and students enjoyed the learning experience.

Finally, our PTSA meeting this month will be held in the media center at Oakland Mills Middle School, at 6:00 pm. The reason for this is that we are joining with OMMS to host the first ever Howard County MultiService Center information night at 6:30 pm at OMMS. The MultiService Center is comprised of 14 different human service agencies, providing easy access to a wide range of resources and support, such as counseling, legal and medical assistance, employment, and many other services. Those in need of services, in addition to anyone who wants to learn more about how to help those in need, are encouraged to attend.

With Eagle PRIDE,

Martin Vandenberg
Principal

The purpose of these events was to bring awareness to African Americans in History but to also celebrate history of those that have made an impact from all nationalities; bringing us together in hope, love, peace and unity. The Poetry Slam Jam was sponsored by LEMS Ladies First and held on February 24th. It featured student performances, poetry, story telling, dance, and stomp routines.

On February 28th, students and staff participated in a fun activity, Black History Trivia. The trivia is derived from different times in history but also includes modern day trivia as well. Trivia was displayed on signs where students and staff engaged in a dialogue in trying to figure who the historical figure was based on a picture, a quote, song excerpt, or otherwise.
